

Women Environmental Programme

January - March, 2018 Newsletter

WEP holds annual staff retreat, hosts partners to a new-year dinner to present a film on gender and chemicals.

Women Environmental Programme (WEP) organized a 3-day retreat for staff and board members of the organization from 7 - 10 January, 2018, at Royal Choice Inn, Central Area, Abuja, Nigeria. As it is customary to WEP, at the beginning of every year, staff and board members of the organization convene for a retreat where the organization reflect on her activities for the previous year and plan for the new year. Read more...

Women2030 launches website on International Women's Day

Women2030, a coalition of 5 global and regional gender and women-focused organizations which WEP is a part of, launched its website on International Women's Day, using #herstoryofchange social media campaign. The website is a one stop-shop for resources on gender and Sustainable Development Goals. The website also highlights works done by women from different regions of the world towards realizing the Sustainable Development Goals. Visit <https://www.women2030.org/> to know more about the women2030

WEP begins mentorship and volunteer programme for youths

In line with her vision of positively transforming the lives of women and youth globally, WEP has started a mentorship and volunteer programme for youths in Nigeria.

This one-year programme is expected to equip the youths with the necessary skills and information they require to cause positive change in communities.

The goal of the programme is to promote community development through volunteerism.

The programme commenced on 28th March, 2018 at WEP's head office in Abuja, Nigeria. See first session of the mentorship and volunteer programme <https://web.facebook.com/womenenvironmentalprogramme/posts/1018332391667546>

Read more about our mentorship and volunteer programme here- <https://drive.google.com/open?id=1j6vQLjvrKsNzXtnr0weLqZfYYje8-FAH>

What has gender got to do with chemicals? - Documentary

You want to know what gender has to do with chemicals? Then see this documentary <http://www.wecf.eu/english/publications/2017/filmwaste-nigeria.php>

Women Environmental Programme

Block E, Flat 2, Anambra Court, Gaduwa Estate, Abuja, Nigeria

Phone: +23492910878, +2348117295065

www.wepnigeria.net

FORWARD

mailer lite